In a vacation, most of the peoples will go different tourist places for relaxation or recreation and faced problematic situation if there unavailability of room in Hotel or Resort. With that inspiration we created a web application “StarGateway Hotel Reservation System” to help the People who are basically like to confirm the booking before the traveling to minimize the hassle during the traveling. Moreover, Management also gets a view about the Daily/Monthly data of tourist and also able to compare with the costing to find out the Net Income.

- Process Model

A software process model is a standardized format for following stages of software developing.

- Planning
- Organizing
- Running a development project.

variations on a small number of basic models. We surveyed the important basic models, and tried how to choose between them.

We have to consider following constraints while building a software or any real-world project.

A (software/system) process model is a description of the sequence of activities carried out in a software project, and the relative order of these activities.

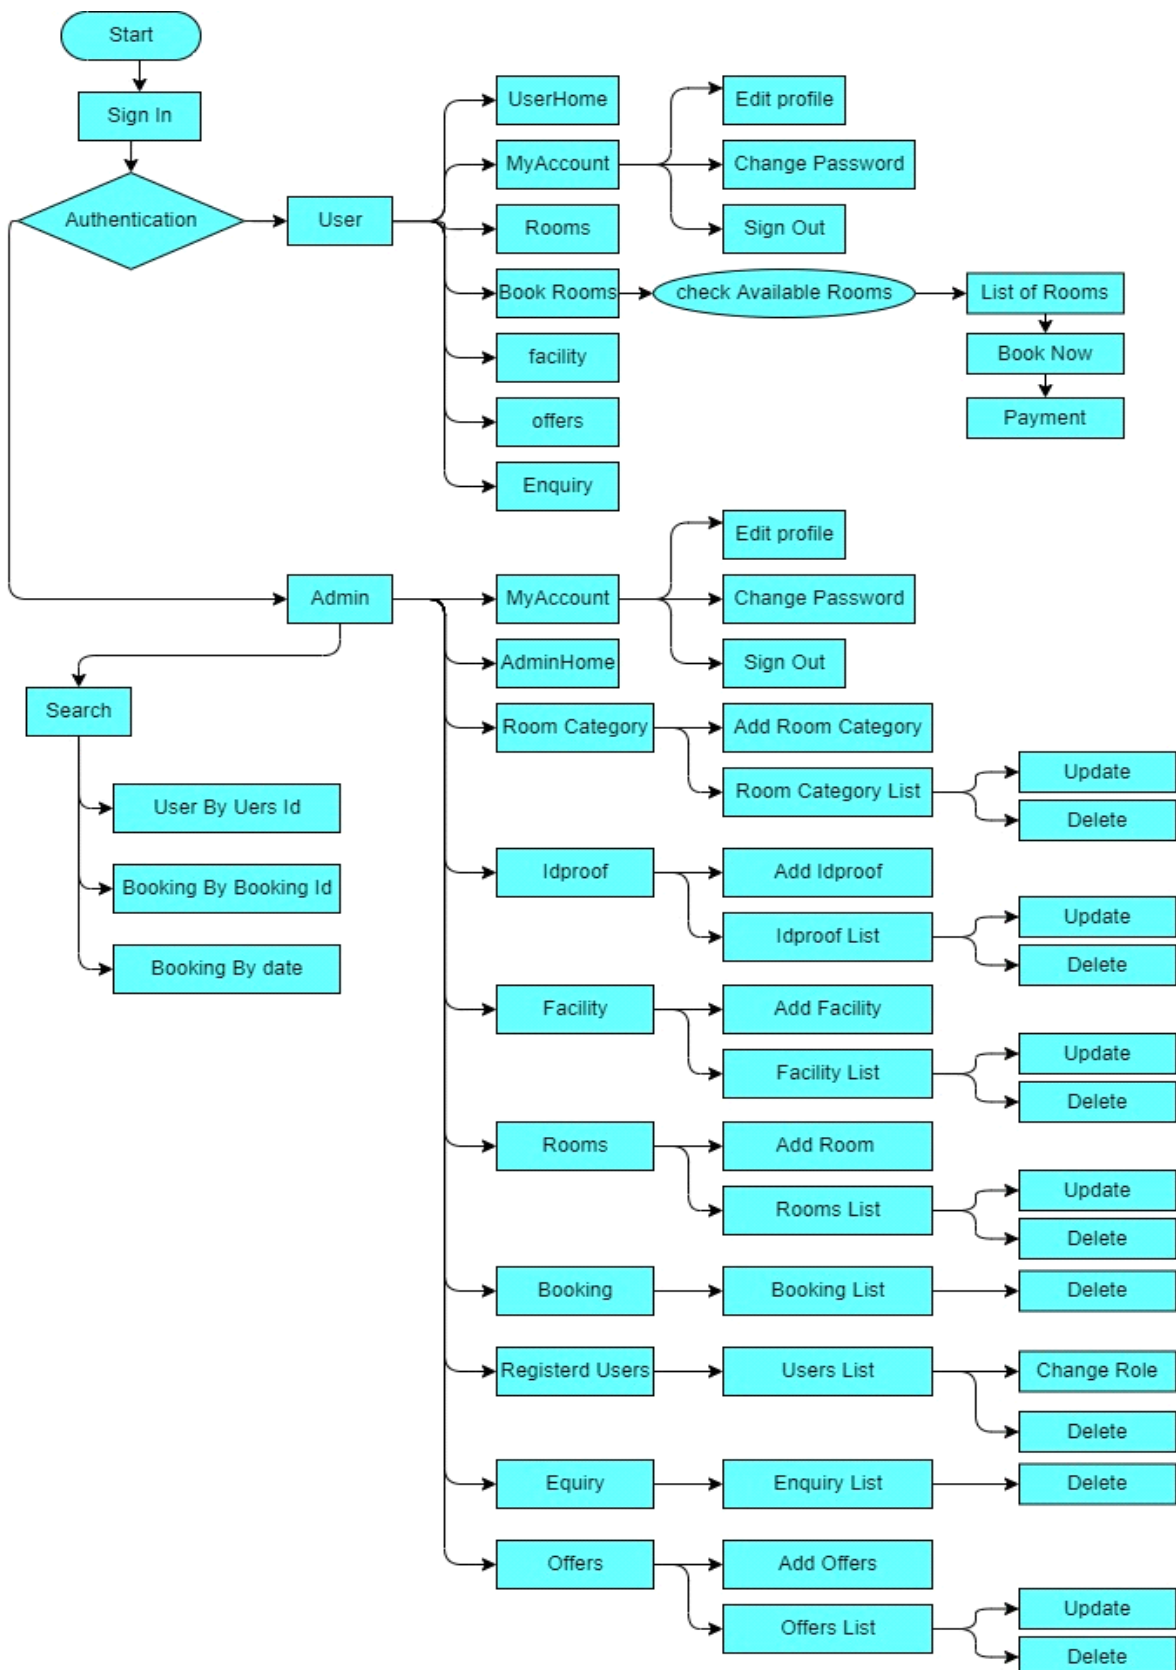

A process model provides a fixed generic framework that can be tailored to a specific project. Project specific parameters will include: Size, (person-years), Budget, Duration.

Project Plan = Process Model + Project Parameters.

There are different types of basic process models are existed, in our project we used Waterfall Model as a process model.

The waterfall model is a breakdown of project activities into linear sequential phases, where each phase depends on the deliverables of the previous one and corresponds to a specialization of tasks.

How can you replicate a spa-like experience in your guestrooms? Scent diffusers, soothing eye pillows, and noise machines are relatively inexpensive and easy to implement, so adding relaxation devices to your room amenities is certainly not a stressful task. If you want to deliver a truly unforgettable in-room relaxation station, consider adding a Myostorm massage ball, a unique product that was recently featured on Shark Tank. Other massage options include a foot massager or a neck massager, like these from Homedics.
